ALL MACHINERY IN DUPLICATE

John R. Eastman Will Leave on His Tour of Investigation Tomorrow Evening.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Miller - Barnes - Eastman - Foster-Bell-Shriver (and fourteen others) gold company was held last evening and all the necessary arrangements were made for sending an investigating committee to Seattle at once. John R. Eastman was selected as such committee and he will go direct to Seattle, and will leave here tomorrow night. Mr. Eastman's mission is to inquire into the feasibility of the company's plans and to ascertain whether a steamboat may be constructed more cheaply at Seattle or Tacoma.

The pumps that the company expects to use on their boats will lift the dirt from the bottom in water to a depth of 60 or 70 feet. The pump will be large enough to lift nuggets of gold or boulders of rock six inches in diameter.

The personnel of the expedition that will go to the Yukon is not yet completed, though it is now settled that the party will include John R. Eastman, Charles W. Shriver and W. C. Cantrell. There are several others who have half made up their mind to go.

The machinery on the boat will be in duplicate. There will be two of the best boilers made and two engines. The power from both engines and boilers will be used under ordinary circumstances, but in case of accident one set of machinery will be sufficient to carry on the work.

One of the members of the company was asked if the government would allow them to dig up the bottom of the Yukon and his reply was that they intended to save Uncle Sam the expense of dredging and making the Yukon navigable to larger vessels.

The expedition will have comfortable and homelike quarters on the boat and will take provision enough to last two years.

HE IS GUILTY

BUT NOT OF ATTEMPTING TO COMMIT CRIME OF MURDER.

Jury Finds William Burns Guilty of Assault With Intent to do Great Bodily Harm.

William Burns was convicted by a jury in the circuit court this morning of assaulting Allen Wilson, eight years old, with the intent of doing him great bodily harm. Burns was charged with attempted murder, but deliberation by the jury upon the testimony resulted in a decision that this more serious charge had not been proven.

The arguments of the counsel were concluded this morning and the jury retired in charge of Deputy Sheriff Earl at 10:45. After an hour spent in the jury room they were ready to report. Lawyer H. W. Davis, representing the defendant, at once moved a stay of judgment, which motion will be argued tomorrow.

The trial of Timothy Talbot, accused of committing an assault upon Dr. Tutton, was taken up following the Burns case, much against the desires of the defense whose witnesses were not all present. Judge Coolidge refused to discontinue the case. A jury was impaneled this forenoon and the examination of witnesses began this afternoon. Hammond & Hammond represented the defendant.

It is claimed by the prosecution that on May 31, last, Talbot outrageously assaulted Dr. Tutton, the assault occurring in the doctor's own home, and was occasioned by a disposition on the doctor's part to send Talbot, who was discourteous and rude in his attitude, home.

Dr. John Bell is a witness in the case, the doctor having attended the injuries received by Dr. Tutton.

A PLAIN MARRIAGE.

Albert Long and Miss Emma Liskey are Wedded.

Albert Long, of Stevensville, and Miss Emma Liskey, of Chicago, were married yesterday afternoon in the office of the county clerk by Justice Baldrey. Misses Marie Liskey and Jennie Long were witnesses to the ceremony.

Harrod Ballard and Miss May Thomas were married at Decatur Sunday by Rev. Mrs. Emma Garretson. The ceremony was witnessed by A. B. Copley and Miss Hathaway.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight. Wednesday unsettled weather, with probably local rain. Colder Wednesday with brisk north wind.

FAVOR STREET R. R.

Conference Regarding East Main Street Railway Crossing Practically Settled.

EASTMAN SPRINGS LINE WINS.

Permission to Cross Big Four and St. Joseph Valley Will be Advised by Deputy Com.

William W. Wedemeyer, deputy commissioner of railroads, and Elliott T. Moore, mechanical engineer in the railroad commissioner's office, told THE NEWS this afternoon that they would recommend to the commissioner of railroads that permission be granted the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs street railway company to cross the tracks of the Big Four and Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus companies.

This recommendation will be accompanied by the requirement that the street railway equip the crossings with a derailing appliance at its own expense.

The Big Four and M., B. H. & C. wanted the protection ordered that in case additional tracks were laid by them across the street railway, that the latter be compelled to bear all the expense of making the crossing.

Deputy Wedemeyer promptly declared that it was not a prerogative they enjoyed to order compliance with such a condition. They were not expected to provide for propositions that might come up in the future.

After a short conference between Messrs. Wedemeyer and Moore and the officials of the three roads interested in the matter, held in the Hotel Benton parlors, the magnates made an inspection of the tracks with the result above stated.

Mr. Wedemeyer is a giant like commissioner Wessellus, only is much younger. He is a friend of Manager Shield, of the Excelsior clothing company, through the acquaintance which existed between Mr. Shield's brother and the deputy commissioner while attending Ann Arbor.

Mr. Wedemeyer's party included Elliott T. Moore, mechanical engineer in the railroad commissioner's office, J. K. V. Agnew and Bridge Engineer Tuttle of the West Michigan. They were on an inspecting trip over the West Michigan, leaving Grand Rapids this morning and going through to New Buffalo, returning as far as here.

BANK IN BETTER SHAPE.

Gas City Loan May Be Realized Upon to a Certain Extent.

Receiver Ainger, Attorney Gore and J. S. Morton succeeded in changing the security given the First national bank for the $20,000 Gas City loan yesterday. The bank now has a better chance than ever for realizing on its loan.

ON THE TRACK.

The New Street Railway Getting Ready for Business.

At the meeting of the city council last night permission was granted Manager Beckley, of the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs street railway to put his car on the tracks on East Main street. The car was brought down from the barns of the St. Joseph & Benton Harbor street railway company about noon and with the assistance of one of Dan Green's teams transferred to the new line and hauled to the corner of East Main and Sixth streets where it now stands.

The car is an old one but has been nearly rebuilt. It has been newly painted and the name "Eastman Springs" is painted in attractive letters on either side. It bears the number 13.

Manager Beckley says only one car will be run this winter but when summer arrives several new cars will be put on.

I had a chance to see him, but I was too busy to go. I was too busy to go. I was too busy to go.

I did my best to teach it goodly lore. I talked to it of medicine and law. It looked as if it knew it all before. And simply said, "Oh, pahaw!"

I sat me down upon a dry goods box To stuff sound doctrine down its empty craw. It would have none of matters orthodox. But yawned and said, "Oh, pahaw!"

I talked to it of politics, finance. I hoped to teach the bird to say "Hurrah!" For my pet candidates when he'd a chance. He winked and chirped, "Oh, pahaw!"

I am for prohibition, warp and woof. But that bird stole hard, elude through a straw. And tipped and teetered off at my reproof. And thickly said, "Oh, pahaw!"

Enraged, I hurled a bootjack, missed my aim And plugged a passing stranger in the jaw. He wheeled to see from whence the missile came. The demon laughed, "Oh, pahaw!"

I gave the creature to an old maid aunt And shook with parting grief its skiany claw. "He'll serve to cheer," she said, "my lonely heart."

For I'd not marry the best man on earth!" "Oh, pahaw!" sneered Poll. "Oh, pahaw!"

—Emma Herriek Wood in New York Sun.

A CONQUERING HERO.

It was such a pretty scene. The trees had the abundance of verdant foliage that belongs to happy June. The grass seemed more than usually rich and green and the wild flowers more abundant than ever before—there was a rural bridge over a deep, rushing stream that fed a mill dam some distance beyond, and roses clambered over the broken rails of the bridge and twined their wild tendrils about an old tree near by, against which was a rustic seat. On the rustic seat was another rose—a very sweet and fresh and lovely rose in white muslin, with a Marie Antoinette fichu across her breast and knotted at the waist, and a wide leghorn hat on her head that shaded her eyes so cleverly that no beholder could guess that tears were rising there from time to time and dropping on the white mull kerchief. And this had happened so often that the rose might very well be said to be washed in dew.

Her name was Kate, and she was very angry with herself because the tears would fall despite all the indignant things she was saying to herself in her effort to stop their flow, till at last she started to her feet in a dreadful pet and began to walk up and down, crushing the wild flowers under her feet. But that could not continue, for she was a very sweet little woman and could not even hurt a flower without regretting it, and presently she bent her graceful figure and pulled the wild anemones and the few late violets and, having reached the rustic seat, she added a rose or two and sat down.

"It's a perfectly lovely morning," she murmured and pinned the flowers among the folds of the mull kerchief. "I wonder where she has taken the child, because"

She stopped and looked anxiously about till she saw in the distance the maid and the little boy rambling among the trees and apparently absorbed in gathering wild flowers and chasing butterflies, and the music of the child's laughter was borne to her on the soft, perfumed summer breeze. It was a heavenly sound—a sound to gladden any mother's heart, but Kate Selden sighed and drew from her belt a closely crumpled piece of paper, which she had thrust there in fierce impatience, and as she looked at it the tears, which had not retreated very far, again rose to her eyes.

"Oh, I'm just a dreadful fool," she thought. "A silly, silly little simpleton. And I'm glad he is late, for I wouldn't have him know for anything in this world that I cared enough to cry." And smoothing out the crumpled paper, she began to read the written words once more, though she already knew them by heart:

"If you will see me on Wednesday, we can talk the matter over. I have spoken with my lawyer, and he has consulted with yours, and a separation can be arranged without any public scandal—at least, I hope so. I would call at the house, but I know your mother hates me worse than ever now, and it would only cause a scene. So if you will come to the old rustic seat close by the bridge—you know where we used to meet in the old, happy days—ah, Kate, if you would only let me tell you everything, you would find that I am not so very much to blame. But I won't speak of that, because, of course, I know you wish to leave me, and I will make no defense. Yes, you shall keep the boy, though I believe the law would give him to me if I chose to fight for my right—no, in that I yield to you entirely. I believe a child belongs to his mother first and before all others. Therefore I give him to you without asking what the law might say about it, but I do ask that you will let me see him as often as I may wish, for I love him, dear—yes, though you may not believe it, Kate, I love him next to his mother, who is still the dearest on earth to me. There, I didn't mean to say that, but it is written, and let it stay so. I will not offend you again, but be there on Wednesday, any time before noon. I won't be later than 11, and we can arrange all the business details—the lawyers will do the rest."

And by this time the tears were brimming over, but she wiped them softly away, and instead of crushing the paper, as before, she folded it very smoothly and slipped it inside her corset, where she could feel it rise and fall beneath the hurried beating of her heart.

She was very pale, and his lips looked pallid and drawn with the effort to keep from trembling. She had flushed deeply when their eyes met, but now the color ebbed away from her girlish face, and she said confusedly:

"I am so glad—I mean, not to keep you waiting. You see I am here first."

"You are very good," he said, "but you are always good. You got my letter?"

"Oh, yes, or I wouldn't have known you were coming here." She moved backward a step and was very glad to drop into the old rustic seat. "It is very generous of you, Sidney, to agree to everything and particularly about baby."

"It is all I can do now—to try to please you," he answered weakly, and the perspiration was like dew on his brow. He took off his hat and stammered something about its being "awfully hot."

"Yes, perhaps you have walked fast. It is very warm, and you look tired. Won't you sit down?" She moved a little farther away to make room for him, and he dropped into the place beside her. "We used to say there was just room enough for two," he added, with a smile, and she turned her head away, perhaps to pluck a rose, for she snatched one off short and then threw it away.

"Am I to see baby today?" he asked after a few minutes of awkward silence. "I haven't seen him, you know, since."

"Oh, yes," she answered hurriedly and looking about. "There they are, he and Annette, yonder in the woods. They are coming this way. Oh, Sidney," she cried suddenly turning toward him, "how could you? I can never, never forgive you!"

"I could never dare to ask you." They were almost the very words of Pauline and Claud. She remembered in a moment that it had been the first play Sidney had taken her to see after they had married and how often they had laughed at that pair of lovers, each dying to forgive and be forgiven and neither daring to say the right word. She used to think she could never be so foolish as that, and now—it was getting very awkward, for this was a far more serious matter, and she knew that she could never, never forgive. What woman could?

And then she heard the laughter and shouts of little Sidney, who had just caught sight of his father and was now running wildly to welcome him. It was a fortunate interruption to a scene that was nearing a painful climax, and she was very glad to take a step or two toward the laughing boy, who was already flying across the bridge, followed by his nurse; then there was a crash, a shriek. The side of the bridge was gaping outward. The maid stood wringing her hands. The golden curls, that had floated a moment above the rushing water, were gone.

It was so sudden, so inexplicable, that the frantic mother could not realize at first what had happened. When she did, the air resounded with her agonized cries, and it was the nursegirl who was the first to see that Selden had already reached his child just in time.

"Courage, ma'am, courage!" the girl whispered, while she supported her mistress. "See—he is safe! His father has him. Look, look! The darling has his arms about the master's neck, and he's hugging and kissing of him just as if nothing had happened at all!"

The girl assisted her mistress back to the little rustic seat, and when the father and child had reached the young mother little Sidney was already laughing with delight, and as he put one dripping arm about her neck he drew her close till her face touched her husband's face.

"Kate," whispered Selden, "Kate, may I beg forgiveness now?"

"Oh, Sidney, I have been so proud and heartless! I was jealous and vain—and—and—so selfish and unfair! I wouldn't listen to you, and all the time I knew you never cared for that woman! Can you forgive me too?"

"Just give me a chance; that's all." And then two pairs of arms met and clasped each other close about the conquering hero, who seemed to find himself quite suddenly an object of second importance.

It then occurred to Annette that Master Sidney would have a dreadful cold unless his dripping garments were changed immediately, so she carried him off in pursuit of dry clothing.—Popular Monthly.

Preparing and Cooking Ducks.

Ducks, in point of quality, rank as follows: Canvasback, redhead, mallard and teal. The canvasback probably outranks everything in the way of game in the estimation of good liver. No seasonings or spices are used in its cooking; none could add to its perfect flavor. Pluck, singe and draw the birds, wiping out the inside with a cloth wet in salt water, never washing. Truss, dust lightly with salt (inside and outside) and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Baste often in melted butter and hot water—one part butter to three of water. If preferred rare (conceded the better way), cook only 20 minutes. In serving pour over the liquor yielded in the cooking.—Ella Morris Kretschmar in Woman's Home Companion.

Unaccountable Ignorance.

As a trolley car turned off from Fulton street, Brooklyn, the other afternoon and came to a standstill a woman got off who attracted attention by her slow and painful movements, and a woman got on who moved with equal slowness and effort. Both were very lame. This incident afforded an opening for the conductor, who said to a passenger on the platform: "It beats all the number of lame people you see lately in this town. I wonder where they all come

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1897.

ONE CENT.

FEEL SILVER'S PULSE.

One of the Objects of Roman I. Jarvis in Making a Trip Through the West.

NO IDEA OF MOVING AWAY.

Possibly He May Buy Some Cheap Western Land to Hold for His Boys.

Hon. Roman I. Jarvis, editor of the Benton Harbor Times, the silver paper, will leave in a day or so for a two weeks' visit to the northwestern states on the Pacific coast.

There has been much speculation as to the object of his visit and many people have wondered if Mr. Jarvis really intended to leave the paper that he is meeting with success in publishing and leave the city himself.

When asked if he had under contemplation such a move Mr. Jarvis said:

"I have no such idea or intention. My paper is doing better than I had expected and I would not think of moving away. I have long desired to make a trip to the Pacific and that opportunity has now come to me. I shall thoroughly look over the cheap lands in the west and be in a position to advise people dissatisfied with their location and condition on my return. I have a family of boys growing up and may buy some land for them.

"Another thing that takes me west is that I want to learn the silver sentiment for myself. Next winter I expect to hold some meetings over the district and the information I gain will be very helpful in preparing these addresses. I may advise some people, those who can scarce get along here, to go west, but that depends altogether upon the conditions I find there."

During the absence of the editor the Times will be edited by E. E. Jarvis.

Mr. Jarvis will be accompanied by L. O. Chatfield who has a brother lying sick in a Helena hospital with no hope of recovery.

DEPENDS THE WEST.

Hon. Roman I. Jarvis on Mr. Guibert's Interview.

EDITOR EVENING NEWS: I noticed in your issue of Monday evening an interview with Frank Guibert of this city in which he places great condemnation on the west. I hardly think the length of his trip was sufficient to justify his condemnation.

Mr. Guibert left this city on Wednesday, October 13, and next day he left Chicago for the west. In nine days he traveled through Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Idaho, Oregon, the two Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa, and visited Denver, Ogden, Butte City and Helena. The trip could scarcely have been covered in this time had Mr. Guibert taken a lightning express and remained aboard the nine days. In view of this his investigations were not as thorough or as reliable as a longer visit would have made them.

So far as hard times goes I agree with Mr. Guibert that they reach all parts of our land and that many men are idle. This I believe to be a normal condition under a gold standard, but the depression is no greater, if as great, in the west than in the east.

Fred A. and E. J. Wightman, formerly of this city, now of Anaconda, Mont., and who have a farm there, both declare that that great state suits them better than any other place they have ever lived in. At Butte, Seth Parshall, formerly of this city, is receiving a salary of $3.50 per day and writes that work is plentiful.

When some of my relatives left New York state years ago to explore Michigan they returned with the dismal report that it was only a swamp and frog pond where nothing but fever and ague flourished. And Michigan is a pretty fair state after all.

R. I. JARVIS.

"AN OFF NIGHT."

Will Be Played at Conkey's Tuesday Night.

Tuesday night next, at Conkey's opera house, theatre-goers will have an opportunity to see the production of the play, "An Off Night," by a company of the best comedians traveling—The Simon Comedy company. The performance will be characterized by the introduction of some delightfully entertaining specialties and an evening of rare amusement is assured the audience.

A DOG DID IT.

Cause a Bicycle Accident on Water Street.

Mrs. Mat Jewell last evening collided with a dog while riding a wheel on Water street and with a three-year-old child which occupied a seat in front of the handle bars of the bike, was hurled to the ground with fearful force.

Mrs. Jewell fell directly upon her child, and although she tried to protect the little fellow from the full weight of her body, the child was badly hurt. No fractures were found but the face bore several ugly cuts. Mrs. Jewell was not injured.

The rim of the front wheel was demolished and other expensive injuries were suffered.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

County Convention Now in Session at Buchanan.

The Berrien county Sunday school union began its nineteenth annual convention at Buchanan this afternoon.

The program opened with a song service conducted by Miss Elizabeth Pratt of Chicago. Rev. W. P. French, the president of the union, conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. R. C. Berger delivered the address of welcome and Rev. Dr. Brooks of this city responded for the society. Interesting discussions were led by Hon. E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, George Parsons, Miss Elizabeth Pratt and Rev. H. H. Flory.

This evening Miss May Bisbee, of Benton Harbor, one of the most successful and methodical primary teachers in the county will address the convention on "Primary Work, Principles and Methods," and Rev. L. G. Herbert will speak on "The Real Mission of Sunday school work."

On the program tomorrow appear the names of such interesting speakers as Rev. Thomas McRoberts, Rev. Frank Fox and Frank Welton.

The convention will close tomorrow evening with an address by Hon. G. J. Diekema, of Holland, former speaker of the lower house in the Michigan legislature.

THAT RAILROAD STORY.

What a Holland Paper Says About It.

Holland Sentinel, Monday: There seems every reason to believe that Benton Harbor, or rather St. Joseph, will be made the transfer point of the D. T. & M. A report, said to come from Railroad Commissioner Wesselius, says that the company has purchased the St. Joseph Valley road and will make Benton Harbor its transfer point. Another report, from equally as reliable source, says that an option was recently secured on the road running to South Haven.

the railroad officials visited Holland on Saturday. Although favorably impressed with the advantages offered they intimated that the Holland harbor was not deep enough for the class of boats they proposed running. On Saturday afternoon the city committee accompanied the officials to Allegan and returned in the evening.

Although the indications are not as promising as is wished for, there is still some hope that Holland will yet secure this enterprise and future developments are expected.

NEW SEWER.

COUNCIL ORDERS ONE BUILT ON SEVENTH STREET

And Grants E. E. Beckley Permission to Place a Street Car on East Main Street.

The city council voted last night to construct a sewer on Seventh street from Main to Oak street, at an estimated cost of $312.63. The council adopted the estimate of cost and expenses prepared by a board of special assessors and submitted to the council April 15, 1896, when the construction of a sewer on Seventh street was talked of, and also adopted the map and profile of the same submitted and accepted by the council May 6, 1896.

A joint meeting of the council and board of public works was ordered to be held Monday afternoon, November 15, to hear objections to the construction of the sewer. All but one of the residents on the street are said to favor the sewer.

Upon request of Alderman James McDonald the council granted E. E. Beckley permission to place a street car on East Main street on the line of the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs company and leave it there until the operation of the line begins which will be in less than a week, if present expectations are realized. Mr. Beckley has a special purpose in desiring to occupy East Main street at this time, but the purpose was not made public last night.

Clerk Chaddock advised the aldermen that they would be admitted to the reviewing stand in Grand Rapids during the Carnival of Fun if they took with them some evidence of their identity.

CAPT. ED NAPIER'S BOAT.

It Was Burned in the Calumet River Saturday.

Macatawa Park resorters will hear with a shade of sorrow the intelligence that the steamer Macatawa, which for years carried passengers between Holland and the park, was burned at her moorings in the Calumet river, Chicago, Saturday. None were on board at the time of the fire, and it was discovered by employees working near by.

The Macatawa was a double deck propeller, ninety-six feet long by seventeen feet beam, drawing five feet and nine inches. She was built in 1883 and was three years ago plied the waters of Lake Michigan and of Lake Michigan in that vicinity. The boat has been owned lately by Capt. Edward Napier and used for Chicago excursion business. It was valued at $3,500 and insured for $2,500.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As a stranger soliciting a share of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I come from a medical family, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homopathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.

These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obstinate cases that others have failed to cure are solicited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice. Respectfully, C. EDSON COVEY, M. D. 26/19

It may be that among the silver scenes of the west the Hon. R. I. Jarvis will discover some suitable candidate for congress from the fourth Michigan district.

It has for years been common knowledge that a live man, was not safe in Chicago at night. Monday the morgue at Dunning was entered by ghouls and four bodies stolen. It is now useless for a man to kill himself so as to be safe from thieves in that city. He is liable to be robbed anyway.

ONE week from today will occur several elections, chief among which will be the election of a mayor for Greater New York. The better element in that city is for Seth Low, but the indications are that a machine candidate will win. He will doubtless be Van Wyck, the Tammanyite.

THE big city dailies are worrying their readers with long stories about a possible war with Spain. The proposed war is about as distant as the time when the waters of the Niagara will flow backward upon the rapids. Spain won't fight. Tammany and the Republicans Figure on Certain Victory Next Week.

SENATOR PLATT IS CONFIDENT

He Declares That the Election is Already Won by General Tracy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Democratic leaders in New York are putting the figures of Judge Van Wyck's vote away up to what seems at first blush an unreasonable estimate. It must be admitted, however, that a careful study of the situation shows that very good grounds exist for their claim.

They are not, in other words, figuring "in the air," but are basing their estimates upon reports that come to them through an organization that is well nigh perfect in its machinery, not only as to the assembly districts, but down to each and every election district in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

John C. Sheehan was asked again yesterday what his estimate now is of Judge Van Wyck's vote in greater New York. He said:

"Judge Van Wyck will receive in the neighborhood of 250,000 votes. Of these 150,000, probably 160,000, will come from the present New York. The judge will receive at least 75,000 votes in Brooklyn."

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Senator Platt has made the following statement:

"General Tracy has won the election. There are three democratic candidates in the field—among whom the democratic vote will be divided. The democrats have never had a majority in the territory now consolidated since the enactment of the present election law.

"They used to have majorities, any kind of majority that suited their taste and convenience. They had absolute control of the electoral machinery at every poll.

"Whatever their present vote may be it is going to be divided between Van Wyck, George, Low and Gleason. Van Wyck will probably get the most of it, George will get a huge portion of it, and Low will get a substantial remainder.

"Low is the candidate of four democratic organizations, the Ship-Democracy, the Garco-Democracy, the Purroy-Democracy, and the Steckler-Democracy.

"More and more as the canvass has proceeded he has become identified before the public with the democratic party. He is the embodiment of the holler-than-thou idea of the Cleveland party. He is a revival of Clevelandism. He has the support of all that noisy and insolent crowd that grovels at the feet of Cleveland.

"He has been brought forward as the expression of their notions and their hopes, and that which makes his success impossible is the fact, now so clearly presented in the minds of the community, that through Low their Cleveland clique are endeavoring to recover their lost prestige for use in 1900.

"The republican vote, on the other hand, is consolidated upon a single candidate."

MCKINLEY AND BRYAN.

Both of the Big Leaders Will Speak in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26.—McKinley and Bryan, the leaders of the opposing forces in the national contest last year, will come to Ohio this week to close the campaign for their respective sides. Bryan will enter the state on Wednesday and will make eleven speeches in four days, arriving in Cincinnati on Saturday evening. The president will also make his appearance in Cincinnati Saturday evening, where he is scheduled to deliver an address at a banquet to be given in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce. The speech will be in the nature of an appeal for the election of Mark Hanna.

The presence in the same city on the same evening of the contending candidates for the presidency—the victor and the vanquished—in last year's memorable canvass will mark the close of a most remarkable campaign in this state. The conditions from the start to the present have kept the politicians guessing. For a time the apathy was so general and of so pronounced a character as to alarm the republicans, while it greatly encouraged the democrats. In the closing days of the canvass the apathy has given way to an activity which is surprising to both parties.

THE JUMPING OFF PLACE

of the United States in Northwestern Washington is a region of unusual grandeur.

A wild craggy range of mountains, the Olympics, looks out upon the waters of the Pacific Ocean and the strait of Juan de Fuca. The high peaks of the range are crested with eternal snow and ice. Deep in their hollows are lakes of great depth and crystal purity. The flanks of the mountains are covered with the finest timber in the United States. Giant pines, cedars and firs rise 100, 200 and even 300 feet in the air. The streams race through wild ravines and are full of mountain trout.

It is a paradise for the woodman and angler. The lakes have large and new catches of trout in them that fight vigorously for life. It is a land little known and explored, perhaps less so than any region of equal area in the United States.

WAR NOW DECLARED

Governor Pingree After the Michigan Central and Lake Shore
With a Sharp Stick.

WANTED A 1,000 BOOK FOR $20

And Now Threatens to Get Out a Mandamus Against the Railroad Companies.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—Governor Pingree opened a campaign, yesterday afternoon, to compel the railroads of Michigan to obey the laws relative to the sale of mileage books. He went to the Michigan Central and Lake Shore depot ticket offices, tendered $20, and asked for a one-thousand mile book good for himself and family two years. His request was not complied with, and the governor, with a seraphic smile of satisfaction on his face, said that he would at once apply to the Wayne circuit court in chancery for a mandamus to compel the railroads to sell him such a mileage book.

Something of this kind has been growing and taking shape in the governor's mind every since the supreme court's recent decision, declaring the mileage book act of 1891 constitutional. In that decision the court virtually said that the railroads must sell mileage books such as Gov. Pingree offered to buy yesterday; but the Lake Shore sells no mileage books at all and the Michigan Central has a $30 book, upon which $10 will be refunded after its use if a lot of conditions shall have been complied with, one of which is that the covers shall be sent to New York.

The governor selected four $5 bills of legal tender, took two gentlemen as witnesses and escorts, and boarded a Woodward avenue car for the Michigan Central depot. Approaching the window of the ticket office, he smiled at the ticket seller, who recognized the governor and smiled in return most cordially.

"I want a thousand-mile book," said his excellency blandly. The ticket-seller, unconscious of the governor's real errand, took out one of the $30 abominations and commenced stamping it. A commercial traveling man who knew the governor, stood at his elbow and began to suspect that some fun was on, for the faces of his excellency and escorts were wreathed in meaning smiles. Mr. Ticket Seller, perhaps by telepathic communication, caught some of the prevailing spirit, stopped his work on the mileage book and glanced at the governor.

Mr. Pingree had his four $5 bills spread out before him. His smile had broken into a grin. There was no doubt that he was enjoying the situation immensely.

"It is $30," said the ticket seller, after he had taken a good look at Pingree's $20, and had begun to realize that he was in for a Pingreesque scene. "I don't want a $30 book," said his excellency. "I have $20 here, and the law says you must sell me a thousand-mile book good for two years and by all my family. That's what I want to buy now."

"I can't sell you such a book," said the ticket seller, who appeared to enjoy the situation also, and who answered the governor's broad smile with interest.

"I am sworn to see that the laws are obeyed," said Governor Pingree. "You refuse to do as the law requires. I have witnesses here. I have offered to buy a mileage book for $20. I shall get out a mandamus to make you sell one."

"That's right," said the commercial traveler. "Stick-pine in 'em. The $30 books is a d—d nuisance."

Michigan postmasters appointed Monday: Caledonia, Kent county, Emanuel Bergy, vice E. C. Aspey, removed; Kikton, Huron county, A. Cornell, vice George Arthur, removed; Martin, Allegan county, J. C. Campbell, vice P. D. Campbell, dead; North Dor, Allegan county, J. Thomas, vice George Schictel, resigned.

Free Consultation

Dr. McDonald The Specialist.

OFFICE PARLORS AT THE Hotel Benton, Benton Harbor,

Tuesday, November 2

One day only each month.

OFFICE HOURS: 9 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Consultation and Examination Free

Dr. McDonald has for years made a study and specialty of chronic and lingering diseases that require skillful medical treatment for their cure. Such cases as family physicians fail to help and pronounce incurable are particularly solicited, especially those over-dosed with strong mineral drugs and poisons. Dr. McDonald uses only the purest medicines from the vegetable kingdom. He pays attention to the cause of the disease and instructs his patients the way to health and happiness. Dr. McDonald can show hundreds of testimonials in the hand writing of grateful patients who have been cured by him when others failed. He is so familiar with the human system that he is able to read all diseases of the mind or body correctly at a glance without asking any questions. Thousands of invalids are being treated daily for diseases that they do not have, while a few drops of medicine directed to the seat of the disease would give speedy relief, and permanent cure in a very short time. Good health is the most precious jewel in our crown of happiness. With it the world is bright; without it, misery claims us for her own. If you are a sufferer you should weigh well these words: A person who neglects his health is guilty of a great wrong to himself and a grave injury to humanity. The name of Dr. McDonald, the well-known specialist in the cure of chronic and lingering diseases, has become a household word in thousands of homes which his skill and wonderful remedies have made happy by restoring dear ones to health after all hopes were lost. The doctor is a graduate of the highest and best medical colleges, and his advanced theories in the treatment of chronic diseases surprise the most skeptical. All chronic diseases of the scientifically and successfully treated. Dr. McDonald has made a special study of all diseases of the brain and nervous system, and all delicate and obscure diseases peculiar to women.

Dr. McDonald's Special Remedies are a permanent cure for men suffering from nervous and sexual debility and early decay. Rheumatic and paralytic cripples made to walk; catarrhal deafness positively cured and many made to hear a whisper in a very few minutes. All aches and pains fade away under his magical remedies. Epilepsy or falling sickness positively cured through his new method of treatment. Special attention given to catarrh and diseases of the blood.

Those unable to call write for question blank. Hundreds cured through correspondence. Medicines sent everywhere. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Address

THE BENTON HARBOR MINERAL WATER.

Extensive Shipment of Sample Bottles of the Liquid Made To-day.

The curative powers of the Benton Harbor Excelsior Mineral water have been tested. A large number of citizens have been using the water daily and are surprised at the prompt relief it affords in cases of digestion.

Over 150 bottles of the water were shipped to various points in the United States today, and daily inquiries come in from all sources for samples of this liquid.

Peter English, the discoverer of the water, is waiting the result of an analysis being conducted by Prof. Long, of the Chicago University. He expects a report from the distinguished chemist today.

If the water is found by Prof. Long to be as valuable as the Detroit chemist contends it is Mr. English will lose no time in organizing a company and proceeding with the construction of a bath house and hotel.

The water is free to all who desire to try its medical powers, and many are embracing the opportunity with very happy results.

INJUNCTION.

IT IS ISSUED BY JUDGE COOLIDGE AGAINST NILES.

Irregularities of the Council Must be Corrected Before Public Improvements are Made.

Judge Coolidge yesterday granted an injunction against the city of Niles upon the application of H. D. Gallup, who maintains in a bill of complaint filed in the circuit court that the city council is not proceeding according to law in making certain public improvements. The order for an injunction reads as follows:

"It is ordered that a writ of injunction be issued upon the filing of the within bill of complaint, enjoining Judson A. Peck, supervisor of the second ward of the city of Niles from spreading upon the tax roll of said ward, which is now in his hands, any special assessment tax whatsoever until the further order of the court; also that said writ shall further enjoin Edward Hahn, treasurer of the city of Niles, until the further order of the court, from paying any city warrant drawn upon the treasury of said city or upon the treasurer thereof after the fund upon which such warrant purports to be drawn has been exhausted, and said writ shall further enjoin said Hahn from making any collection of any special tax as to paying or otherwise. Provided that a motion may be heard to dissolve this injunction before Judge Buck, of the Kalamazoo circuit, or Judge Yapple, of the St. Joseph circuit, at the option of the city attorney or the attorneys of defendants, on four days' notice. This injunction shall be in force until the further order of the court or until dissolved by the order of the proper judge and motion may be heard to dissolve at chambers."

A JERSEY COW.

She is the Cause of a Case in the Circuit Court.

The justice's return in the case of Charles P. Hoag against Rachael King, has been filed in the circuit court. The case was appealed from Justice Kimball's court where, on October 20 a judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff granting him possession of a Jersey cow, and allowed him $1 damages.

HEATS HIS OFFICE.

The Judge Van Riper Is Rapidly Improving.

This morning Probate Judge Van appeared at his office for the first time in many weeks. He remained an hour or so and then, greatly exhausted, returned home. He will endeavor by a few hours' work each day to accustom himself to the work which illness has prevented him from neglecting. His fever has distinctly shown that he has been suffering much and is very much emaciated.

OPINIONS.

Judge Coolidge in Interest of General and State.

After as to a day handed down by the court yesterday in the case of John Shutterly, James H. Fitzgerald, the Northwest Mutual life insurance company, of Milwaukee, and the Phoenix Mutual life insurance company of Hartford. It is decreed that the complaint be dismissed and the cause discontinued as to the Phoenix company and the costs taxed against the complainant with a solicitor's fee of $10. It is further ordered that the real estate of the Phoenix company be released from the pretended mechanics lien which the complainant sought to foreclose.

The same opinion appearing above was ordered in four other cases against the defendants, the complainants in these cases being the American Boiler company, The Kewaunee Boiler company and James B. Clow & Sons, Deane, Hunt, Brooks & Co.

The real estate upon which the mechanic's lien was held is located in Niles and comprised a hotel and the land it occupies.

A special sale of silverware, C. R. ...

Judge Coolidge in Interest of General and State.

In the chancery proceeding brought by the Benton Harbor Building & Loan association against John M. Allmendinger the court has decreed that on or before January 4, 1898, the real estate described as the northerly half of lots 8 and 9 in block 9 in Benton Harbor, known as the Hotel Allmendinger, shall be sold to satisfy a mortgage of $5,484.57 held by the complainant to whom it was executed by Mr. Allmendinger, October 10, 1892. If the proceeds of the sale of the property are not sufficient to pay the mortgage it is ordered that Mr. Allmendinger become personally liable for the payment of the deficiency.

BUCHANAN BABY SHOW.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peck Adjudged the Prettiest.

BUCHANAN, Oct. 28.—The "Baby Carnival" was a success in every particular. There were 28 babies entered. Allene, the 13 months old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peck receiving the prize for the prettiest baby one year old or over.

Richard Earl Eaton, 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eaton, receiving the prize for the prettiest baby under one year. The prizes were each a silver cup.

Prizes were also awarded to the best and the crosscut and to the oldest and youngest. A handsome lot of babies would be hard to find and a very difficult matter it was to decide between them.

The only regret is that the room was not larger to better accommodate the exhibits and the immense crowd as there was many who were turned away unable to enter. Refreshments were served for the mothers of the babies.

All seemed to enjoy the occasion and the ladies realized a handsome sum for their trouble.

Art Exhibit and Reception.

The ladies of the Universalist church have secured for exhibition and sale at Conkey's hall Friday night, October 29, the famous collection of pictures by eminent artists and illustrations upon the pictorial staff of the Ladies Home Journal. There are fifty pictures, the value of the originals in some instances being as high as $5,000. No price has been set upon the pictures. At 9 o'clock first choice is to be sold at auction, and so on until all the pictures are taken, giving all an opportunity to bid and buy.

The artists include Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin A. Abby, A. B. Frost, Howard Pyle, W. L. Taylor, Albert Lynch, Kate Greenaway, Alice Barbour Stevens and others.

The pictures will be on exhibition in Conkey's hall, Friday evening, October 29. Admission 10 cents. Door open at 7 o'clock. Frazell's orchestra has been engaged to play all the evening. After the sale of the pictures there will be dancing.

The Sad Part.

A lady who has been away from the city for a long while, and who during her absence received the sad news of the death of the husband of one of her intimate friends, upon her return hastened to call upon the bereaved widow to extend her sympathy and condolence.

"My dear —, I am so sorry to hear of your husband's death," said the lady with a suspicious break in her voice, "and you know, dear, how much I sympathize with you."

"Yes, I know you do. It is awful to have your husband taken away, and he did not leave me a cent of insurance either," said the widow, bursting into tears. — Toledo Blade.

A Dame School in England, 1837.

On a perch, forming a triangle with the corner of the room, sat a cock and two hens. Under a stump bed immediately beneath was a dog kennel in the occupation of three black terriers, whose barking, added to the noise of the children and the pecking of the fowls on the approach of a stranger, was almost deafening. There was only one small window at the bottom of the room.

WINTER MATERIALS.

Fashionable, smart and comfortable. Cloth costumes, never absent from the fashionable wardrobe, are having a decided vogue now and will be worn all winter. They are made in all grades of elaboration, from the simple, utilitarian gown to the visiting toilet intended for formal occasions. Tailor made costumes of gray, beige, mastic and similar subdued tints are to be a feature in the more practical winter styles. They are very lightly trimmed, depending for elegance mainly upon their perfect fit. These gowns are not confined to neutral tints, however, but are seen in green, mauve, red, violet and blue cloth.

In more elaborate cloth gowns silk is often introduced in the form of vests,

revers, panels and plaited quilles. The silk is usually of a contrasting color, or at least of a different shade.

Greens and blues still keep the lead as fashionable colors. Perhaps purple, in its various shades, should be mentioned in the same category. Other colors also are worn, but not so universally. Red seems to be coming forward in favor.

The illustration shows a formal costume of green taffeta. The skirt, which has a slight train, is trimmed in front with two quilles of cream gurgure embroidered with gold, which forms the tablier. The close bodice has a plastron, back and front, of gold embroidered gurgure over mauve silk. The plastron, which is full in front, is framed by bretelles composed of a double, plaited frill of green taffeta. The close sleeves of green taffeta open over crosswise platings of the same material and have a small puff at the shoulder. The collar is of mauve taffeta. The toque is of mauve flowers and gold embroidered lace.

ALL MACHINERY IN DUPLICATE

John R. Eastman Will Leave on His Tour of Investigation Tomorrow Evening.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Miller - Barnes - Eastman - Foster-Bell-Shriver (and fourteen others) gold company was held last evening and all the necessary arrangements were made for sending an investigating committee to Seattle at once. John R. Eastman was selected as such committee and he will go direct to Seattle, and will leave here tomorrow night. Mr. Eastman's mission is to inquire into the feasibility of the company's plans and to ascertain whether a steamboat may be constructed more cheaply at Seattle or Tacoma.

The pumps that the company expects to use on their boats will lift the dirt from the bottom in water to a depth of 60 or 70 feet. The pump will be large enough to lift nuggets of gold or boulders of rock six inches in diameter.

The personnel of the expedition that will go to the Yukon is not yet completed, though it is now settled that the party will include John R. Eastman, Charles W. Shriver and W. C. Cantrell. There are several others who have half made up their mind to go.

The machinery on the boat will be in duplicate. There will be two of the best boilers made and two engines. The power from both engines and boilers will be used under ordinary circumstances, but in case of accident one set of machinery will be sufficient to carry on the work.

One of the members of the company was asked if the government would allow them to dig up the bottom of the Yukon and his reply was that they intended to save Uncle Sam the expense of dredging and making the Yukon navigable to larger vessels.

The expedition will have comfortable and homelike quarters on the boat and will take provision enough to last two years.

HE IS GUILTY

BUT NOT OF ATTEMPTING TO COMMIT CRIME OF MURDER.

Jury Finds William Burns Guilty of Assault With Intent to do Great Bodily Harm.

William Burns was convicted by a jury in the circuit court this morning of assaulting Allen Wilson, eight years old, with the intent of doing him great bodily harm. Burns was charged with attempted murder, but deliberation by the jury upon the testimony resulted in a decision that this more serious charge had not been proven.

The arguments of the counsel were concluded this morning and the jury retired in charge of Deputy Sheriff Earl at 10:45. After an hour spent in the jury room they were ready to report. Lawyer H. W. Davis, representing the defendant, at once moved a stay of judgment, which motion will be argued tomorrow.

The trial of Timothy Talbot, accused of committing an assault upon Dr. Tutton, was taken up following the Burns case, much against the desires of the defense whose witnesses were not all present. Judge Coolidge refused to discontinue the case. A jury was impanelled this forenoon and the examination of witnesses began this afternoon. Hammond & Hammond represent the defendant.

It is claimed by the prosecution that on May 31, last, Talbot outrageously assaulted Dr. Tutton, the assault occurring in the doctor's own home, and was occasioned by a disposition on the doctor's part to send Talbot, who was discourteous and rude in his attitude, home.

Dr. John Bell is a witness in the case, the doctor having attended the injuries received by Dr. Tutton.

A PLAIN MARRIAGE.

Albert Long and Miss Emma Liskey are Wedded.

Albert Long, of Stevensville, and Miss Emma Liskey, of Chicago, were married yesterday afternoon in the office of the county clerk by Justice Baldrey. Misses Marie Liskey and Jennie Long were witnesses to the ceremony.

Harrod Ballard and Miss May Thomas were married at Decatur Sunday by Rev. Mrs. Emma Garretson. The ceremony was witnessed by A. B. Copley and Miss Hathaway.

We move our store to Kalamazoo November 1. Will sell goods this week regardless of cost to save expense of packing.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight. Wednesday unsettled weather, with probably local rain. Colder Wednesday with brisk north wind.

FAVOR STREET R. R.

Conference Regarding East Main Street Railway Crossing Practically Settled.

EASTMAN SPRINGS LINE WINS.

Permission to Cross Big Four and St. Joseph Valley Will be Advised by Deputy Com.

William W. Wedemeyer, deputy commissioner of railroads, and Elliot T. Moore, mechanical engineer in the railroad commissioner's office, told THE NEWS this afternoon that they would recommend to the commissioner of railways that permission be granted the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs street railway company to cross the tracks of the Big Four and Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus companies.

This recommendation will be accompanied by the requirement that the street railway equip the crossings with a derailling appliance at its own expense.

The Big Four and M., B. H. & C. wanted the protection ordered that in case additional tracks were laid by them across the street railway, that the latter be compelled to bear all the expense of making the crossing.

Deputy Wedemeyer promptly declared that it was not a prerogative they enjoyed to order compliance with such a condition. They were not expected to provide for propositions that might come up in the future.

After a short conference between Messrs. Wedemeyer and Moore and the officials of the three roads interested in the matter, held in the Hotel Benton parlors, the magnates made an inspection of the tracks with the result above stated.

Mr. Wedemeyer is a giant like commissioner Wessellus, only is much younger. He is a friend of Manager Shield, of the Excelsior clothing company, through the acquaintance which existed between Mr. Shield's brother and the deputy commissioner while attending Ann Arbor.

Mr. Wedemeyer's party included Elliot T. Moore, mechanical engineer in the railroad commissioner's office, J. K. V. Agnew and Bridge Engineer Tuttle of the West Michigan. They were on an inspecting trip over the West Michigan, leaving Grand Rapids this morning and going through to New Buffalo, returning as far as here.

BANK IN BETTER SHAPE.

Gas City Loan May Be Realized Upon to a Certain Extent.

Receiver Ainger, Attorney Gore and J. S. Morton succeeded in changing the security given the First national bank for the $20,000 Gas City loan yesterday. The bank now has a better chance than ever for realizing on its loan.

ON THE TRACK.

The New Street Railway Getting Ready for Business.

At the meeting of the city council last night permission was granted Manager Beckley, of the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs street railway to put his car on the tracks on East Main street. The car was brought down from the barns of the St. Joseph & Benton Harbor street railway company about noon and with the assistance of one of Dan Green's teams transferred to the new line and hauled to the corner of East Main and Sixth streets where it now stands.

The car is an old one but has been nearly rebuilt. It has been newly painted and the name "Eastman Springs" is painted in attractive letters on either side. It bears the number 13.

Manager Beckley says only one car will be run this winter but when summer arrives several new cars will be put on.

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 640.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1897.

ONE CENT.

FEEL SILVER'S PULSE.

One of the Objects of Roman I. Jarvis in Making a Trip Through the West.

NO IDEA OF MOVING AWAY.

Possibly He May Buy Some Cheap Western Land to Hold for His Boys.

Hon. Roman I. Jarvis, editor of the Benton Harbor Times, the silver paper, will leave in a day or so for a two weeks' visit to the northwestern states on the Pacific coast.

There has been much speculation as to the object of his visit and many people have wondered if Mr. Jarvis really intended to leave the paper that he is meeting with success in publishing and leave the city himself.

When asked if he had under contemplation such a move Mr. Jarvis said:

"I have no such idea or intention. My paper is doing better than I had expected and I would not think of moving away. I have long desired to make a trip to the Pacific and that opportunity has now come to me. I shall thoroughly look over the cheap lands in the west and be in a position to advise people dissatisfied with their location and condition on my return. I have a family of boys growing up and may buy some land for them.

"Another thing that takes me west is that I want to learn the silver sentiment for myself. Next winter I expect to hold some meetings over the district and the information I gain will be very helpful in preparing these addresses. I may advise some people, those who can scarce get along here, to go west, but that depends altogether upon the conditions I find there."

During the absence of the editor the Times will be edited by E. E. Jarvis.

Mr. Jarvis will be accompanied by L. O. Chatfield who has a brother lying sick in a Helena hospital with no hope of recovery.

DEFENDS THE WEST.

Hon. Roman I. Jarvis on Mr. Guibert's Interview.

EDITOR EVENING NEWS: I noticed in your issue of Monday evening an interview with Frank Guibert of this city in which he places great condemnation on the west. I hardly think the length of his trip was sufficient to justify his condemnation.

Mr. Guibert left this city on Wednesday, October 13, and next day he left Chicago for the west. In nine days he traveled through Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Idaho, Oregon, the two Dakotas, Minnesota and Iowa, and visited Denver, Ogden, Butte City and Helena. The trip could scarcely have been covered in this time had Mr. Guibert taken a lightning express and remained aboard the nine days. In view of this his investigations were not as thorough or as reliable as a longer visit would have made them.

So far as hard times goes I agree with Mr. Guibert that they reach all parts of our land and that many men are idle. This I believe to be a normal condition under a gold standard, but the depression is no greater, if as great, in the west than in the east.

Fred A. and E. J. Wightman, formerly of this city, now of Anaconda, Mont., and who have a farm there, both declare that that great state suits them better than any other place they have ever lived in. At Butte, Seth Parshall, formerly of this city, is receiving a salary of $3.50 per day and writes that work is plentiful.

When some of my relatives left New York state years ago to explore Michigan they returned with the dismal report that it was only a swamp and frog pond where nothing but fever and ague flourished. And Michigan is a pretty fair state after all.

R. I. JARVIS.

"AN OFF NIGHT."

Will Be Played at Conkey's Tuesday Night.

Tuesday night next, at Conkey's opera house, theatre-goers will have an opportunity to see the production of the play, "An Off Night," by a company of the best comedians traveling—The Simon Comedy company. The performance will be characterized by the introduction of some delightfully entertaining specialties and an evening of rare amusement is assured the audience.

A DOG DID IT.

Cause a Bicycle Accident on Water Street.

Mrs. Mat Jewell last evening collided with a dog while riding a wheel on Water street and with a three-year-old child which occupied a seat in front of the handle bars of the bike, was hurled to the ground with fearful force.

Mrs. Jewell fell directly upon her child, and although she tried to protect the little fellow from the full weight of her body, the child was badly hurt. No fractures were found but the face bore several ugly cuts. Mrs. Jewell was not injured.

The rim of the front wheel was demolished and other expensive injuries were suffered.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION.

County Convention Now in Session at Buchanan.

The Berrien county Sunday school union began its nineteenth annual convention at Buchanan this afternoon.

The program opened with a song service conducted by Miss Elizabeth Pratt of Chicago. Rev. W. P. French, the president of the union, conducted the devotional exercises. Rev. R. C. Berger delivered the address of welcome and Rev. Dr. Brooks of this city responded for the society. Interesting discussions were led by Hon. E. K. Warren of Three Oaks, George Parsons, Miss Elizabeth Pratt and Rev. H. H. Flory.

This evening Miss May Blabee, of Benton Harbor, one of the most successful and methodical primary teachers in the county will address the convention on "Primary Work, Principles and Methods," and Rev. L. G. Herbert will speak on "The Ideal Mission of Sunday school work."

On the program tomorrow appear the names of such interesting speakers as Rev. Thomas McRoberts, Rev. Frank Fox and Frank Welton.

The convention will close tomorrow evening with an address by Hon. G. J. Diekema, of Holland, former speaker of the lower house in the Michigan legislature.

THAT RAILROAD STORY.

What a Holland Paper Says About It.

Holland Sentinel, Monday: There seems every reason to believe that Benton Harbor, or rather St. Joseph, will be made the transfer point of the D. T. & M. A report, said to come from Railroad Commissioner Wessellus, says that the company has purchased the St. Joseph Valley road and will make Benton Harbor its transfer point. Another report, from equally as reliable source, says that an option was recently secured on the road running to South Haven.

the railroad officials visited Holland on Saturday. Although favorably impressed with the advantages offered they intimated that the Holland harbor was not deep enough for the class of boats they proposed running. On Saturday afternoon the city committee accompanied the officials to Allegan and returned in the evening.

Although the indications are not as promising as is wished for, there is still some hope that Holland will yet secure this enterprise and future developments are expected.

NEW SEWER.

COUNCIL ORDERS ONE BUILT ON SEVENTH STREET

And Grants E. E. Beckley Permission to Place a Street Car on East Main Street.

The city council voted last night to construct a sewer on Seventh street from Main to Oak street, at an estimated cost of $312.63. The council adopted the estimate of cost and expenses prepared by a board of special assessors and submitted to the council April 15, 1895, when the construction of a sewer on Seventh street was talked of, and also adopted the map and profile of the same submitted and accepted by the council May 6, 1896.

A joint meeting of the council and board of public works was ordered to be held Monday afternoon, November 15, to hear objections to the construction of the sewer. All but one of the residents on the street are said to favor the sewer.

Upon request of Alderman James McDonald the council granted E. E. Beckley permission to place a street car on East Main street on the line of the Benton Harbor & Eastman Springs company and leave it there until the operation of the line begins which will be in less than a week, if present expectations are realized. Mr. Beckley has a special purpose in desiring to occupy East Main street at this time, but the purpose was not made public last night.

Clerk Chaddock advised the aldermen that they would be admitted to the reviewing stand in Grand Rapids during the Carnival of Fun if they took with them some evidence of their identity.

CAPT. ED NAPIER'S BOAT.

It Was Burned in the Calumet River Saturday.

Macatawa Park resorters will hear with a shade of sorrow the intelligence that the steamer Macatawa, which for years carried passengers between Holland and the park, was burned at her moorings in the Calumet river, Chicago, Saturday. None were on board at the time of the fire, and it was discovered by employees working near by.

The Macatawa was a double deck propeller, ninety-six feet long by seventeen feet beam, drawing five feet and nine inches. She was built in 1883 and until three years ago plied the waters of Black lake and of Lake Michigan in that vicinity. The boat has been owned lately by Capt. Edward Napier and used for Chicago excursion business. It was valued at $3,500 and insured for $2,500.

TO THE PUBLIC.

As a stranger soliciting a share of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my fitness for the work I would undertake. I come from a medical family, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homo-pathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.

These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obstinate cases that others have failed to cure are solicited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice. Respectfully, C. EDSON COVEY, M. D. 261619

THE W. W. T. Chautauquans will hold their regular meeting with Miss Whitehead next Friday, at 2:30 p. m. with the following program: Roll call, Current events on Germany; music, Miss Whitehead; "Public Health," Mrs. Shauman; communication, Mrs. Hipp; biographical sketch, Miss Hull; "Talk on the Building of the German Empire," Mrs. Ward; "Paternal Government," Mrs. Curtis.

THE Bay View reading circle met last evening with Miss Una Lamb. As the books of the course have not yet been received no literary work was taken up. During the business session several new names were proposed and the society was presented with a fine souvenir gavel by one of the members. The handle is of mahogany from the Chicora and the head from a burl found in St. Joseph. The next meeting will be held next Monday evening with Miss Pearl Finch. A full attendance is desired as business of importance will come before the meeting.

CHICAGO BARGAIN STORE

Leaders of Low and Popular Prices.

Tammany and the Republicans Figure on Certain Victory Next Week.

SENATOR PLATT IS CONFIDENT

He Declares That the Election is Already Won by General Tracy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Democratic leaders in New York are putting the figures of Judge Van Wyck's vote away up to what seems at first blush an unreasonable estimate. It must be admitted, however, that a careful study of the situation shows that very good grounds exist for their claim.

They are not, in other words, figuring "in the air," but are basing their estimates upon reports that come to them through an organization that is well nigh perfect in its machinery, not only as to the assembly districts, but down to each and every election district in the boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx.

John C. Sheehan was asked again yesterday what his estimate now is of Judge Van Wyck's vote in greater New York. He said:

"Judge Van Wyck will receive in the neighborhood of 250,000 votes. Of these 150,000, probably 160,000, will come from the present New York. The judge will receive at least 75,000 votes in Brooklyn."

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Senator Platt has made the following statement:

"General Tracy has won the election. There are three democratic candidates in the field—among whom the democratic vote will be divided. The democrats have never had a majority in the territory now consolidated since the enactment of the present election law.

"They used to have majorities, any kind of majority that suited their taste and convenience. They had absolute control of the electoral machinery at every poll.

"Whatever their present vote may be it is going to be divided between Van Wyck, George, Low and Gleason. Van Wyck will probably get the most of it, George will get a huge portion of it, and Low will get a substantial remainder.

"Low is the candidate of four democratic organizations, the Ship-Democracy, the Garco-Democracy, the Purroy-Democracy, and the Steckler-Democracy.

"More and more as the canvass has proceeded he has become identified before the public with the democratic party. He is the embodiment of the holler-than-thou idea of the Cleveland party. He is a revival of Clevelandism. He has the support of all that noisy and insolent crowd that grovels at the feet of Cleveland.

"He has been brought forward as the expression of their notions and their hopes, and that which makes his success impossible is the fact, now so clearly presented in the minds of the community, that through Low their Cleveland clique are endeavoring to recover their lost prestige for use in 1900.

"The republican vote, on the other hand, is consolidated upon a single candidate."

MCKINLEY AND BRYAN.

Both of the Big Leaders Will Speak in Ohio.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 26.—Mckinley and Bryan, the leaders of the opposing forces in the national contest last year, will come to Ohio this week to close the campaign for their respective sides. Bryan will enter the state on Wednesday and will make eleven speeches in four days, arriving in Cincinnati on Saturday evening. The president will also make his appearance in Cincinnati Saturday evening, where he is scheduled to deliver an address at a banquet to be given in his honor by the Chamber of Commerce. The speech will be in the nature of an appeal for the election of Mark Hanna.

The presence in the same city on the same evening of the contending candidates for the presidency—the victor and the vanquished—in last year's memorable canvass will mark the close of a most remarkable campaign in this state. The conditions from the start to the present have kept the politicians guessing. For a time the apathy was so general and of so pronounced a character as to alarm the republicans, while it greatly encouraged the democrats. In the closing days of the canvass the apathy has given way to an activity which is surprising to both parties.

THE JUMPING OFF PLACE

of the United States in Northwestern Washington is a region of unusual grandeur.

A wild craggy range of mountains, the Olympics, looks out upon the waters of the Pacific Ocean and the strait of Juan de Fuca. The high peaks of the range are crested with eternal snow and ice. Deep in their hollows are lakes of great depth and crystal purity. The flanks of the mountains are covered with the finest timber in the United States. Giant pines, cedars and firs rise 100, 200 and even 300 feet in the air. The streams race through wild ravines and are full of mountain trout.

It is a paradise for the woodsman and angler. The lakes have large and new varieties of trout in them that fight viciously for life. It is a land little known and explored, perhaps less so than any region of equal area in the United States.

The Northern Pacific's new tourist boat "Columbia," has a chapter on the Olympics and it will be open to any tourist who wishes to see the coast.

Governor Pingree After the Michi- gan Central and Lake Shore With a Sharp Stick.

WANTED A 1,000 BOOK FOR $20

And Now Threatens to Get Out a Mandamus Against the Railroad Companies.

DETROIT, Oct. 26.—Governor Pingree opened a campaign, yesterday afternoon, to compel the railroads of Michigan to obey the laws relative to the sale of mileage books. He went to the Michigan Central and Lake Shore depot ticket offices, tendered $20, and asked for a one-thousand mile book good for himself and family two years. His request was not complied with, and the governor, with a scathing smile of satisfaction on his face, said that he would at once apply to the Wayne circuit court in chancery for a mandamus to compel the railroads to sell him such a mileage book.

Something of this kind has been growing and taking shape in the governor's mind every since the supreme court's recent decision, declaring the mileage book act of 1891 constitutional. In that decision the court virtually said that the railroads must sell mileage books such as Gov. Pingree offered to buy yesterday; but the Lake Shore sells no mileage books at all and the Michigan Central has a $30 book, upon which $10 will be refunded after its use if a lot of conditions shall have been complied with, one of which is that the covers shall be sent to New York.

The governor selected four $5 bills of legal tender, took two gentlemen as witnesses and escorts, and boarded a Woodward avenue car for the Michigan Central depot. Approaching the window of the ticket office, he smiled at the ticket seller, who recognized the governor and smiled in return most cordially.

"I want a thousand-mile book," said his excellency blandly.

The ticket-seller, unconscious of the governor's real errand, took out one of the $30 abominations and commenced stamping it. A commercial traveling man who knew the governor, stood at his elbow and began to suspect that some fun was on, for the faces of his excellency and escorts were wreathed in meaning smiles. Mr. Ticket Seller, perhaps by telepathic communication, caught some of the prevailing spirit, stopped his work on the mileage book and glanced at the governor.

Mr. Pingree had his four $5 bills spread out before him. His smile had broken into a grin. There was no doubt that he was enjoying the situation immensely.

"It is $30," said the ticket seller, after he had taken a good look at Pingree's $20, and had begun to realize that he was in for a Pingree-sque scene. "I don't want a $30 book," said his excellency. "I have $20 here, and the law says you must sell me a thousand-mile book good for two years and by all my family. That's what I want to buy now."

"I can't sell you such a book," said the ticket seller, who appeared to enjoy the situation also, and who answered the governor's broad smile with interest.

"I am sworn to see that the laws are obeyed," said Governor Pingree. "You refuse to do as the law requires. I have witnesses here. I have offered to buy a mileage book for $20. I shall get out a mandamus to make you sell one."

"That's right," said the commercial traveler. "Stick pine in 'em. The $30 books is a d—d nuisance."

Michigan postmasters appointed Monday: Caledonia, Kent county, Emanuel Bergy, vice E. C. Aspey, removed; Elkton, Huron county, A. Cornell, vice George Arthur, removed; Martin, Allegan county, J. C. Campbell, vice P. D. Campbell, dead; North Dorr, Allegan county, J. Thomas, vice George Schietel, resigned.

Dr. McDonald has for years made a study and specialty of chronic and lingering diseases that require skillful medical treatment for their cure. Such cases as family physicians fail to help and pronounce incurable are particularly solicited, especially those over-dosed with strong mineral drugs and poisons. Dr. McDonald uses only the purest medicines from the vegetable kingdom. He pays attention to the cause of the disease and instructs his patients the way to health and happiness. Dr. McDonald can show hundreds of testimonials in the hand writing of grateful patients who have been cured by him when others failed. He is so familiar with the human system that he is able to read all diseases of the mind or body correctly at a glance without asking any questions. Thousands of invalids are being treated daily for diseases that they do not have, while a few drops of medicine directed to the seat of the disease would give speedy relief, and permanent cure in a very short time. Good health is the most precious jewel in our crown of happiness. With it the world is bright; without it, misery claims us for her own. If you are a sufferer you should weigh well these words: A person who neglects his health is guilty of a great wrong to himself and a grave injury to humanity. The name of Dr. McDonald, the well-known specialist in the cure of chronic and lingering diseases, has become a household word in thousands of homes which his skill and wonderful remedies have made happy by restoring dear ones to health after all hopes were lost. The doctor is a graduate of the highest and best medical colleges, and his advanced theories in the treatment of chronic diseases surprise the most skeptical. All chronic diseases of the scientifically and successfully treated. Dr. McDonald has made a special study of all diseases of the brain and nervous system, and all delicate and obscure diseases peculiar to women. Dr. McDonald's Special Remedies are a permanent cure for men suffering from nervous and sexual debility and early decay. Rheumatic and paralytic cripples made to walk; catarrhal deafness positively cured and many made to hear a whisper in a very few minutes. All aches and pains fade away under his magical remedies. Epilepsy or falling sickness positively cured through his new method of treatment. Special attention given to catarrh and diseases of the blood. Those unable to call write for question blank. Hundreds cured through correspondence. Medicines sent everywhere. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Address

BENTON HARBOR.

ARE BEING PRODUCED BY BENTON HARBOR MINERAL WATER.

Extensive Shipment of Sample Bottles of the Liquid Made To-day.

The curative powers of the Benton Harbor Excelsior Mineral water have been tested. A large number of citizens have been using the water daily and are surprised at the prompt relief it affords in cases of digestion.

Over 150 bottles of the water were shipped to various points in the United States today, and daily inquiries come in from all sources for samples of this liquid.

Peter English, the discoverer of the water, is waiting the result of an analysis being conducted by Prof. Long, of the Chicago University. He expects a report from the distinguished chemist today.

If the water is found by Prof. Long to be as valuable as the Detroit chemist contends it is Mr. English will lose no time in organizing a company and proceeding with the constructions of a bath house and hotel.

The water is free to all who desire to try its medical powers, and many are embracing the opportunity with very happy results.

INJUNCTION.

IT IS ISSUED BY JUDGE COOLIDGE AGAINST NILES.

Irregularities of the Council Must be Corrected Before Public Improvements are Made.

Judge Coolidge yesterday granted an injunction against the city of Niles upon the application of H. D. Gallup, who maintains in a bill of complaint filed in the circuit court that the city council is not proceeding according to law in making certain public improvements. The order for an injunction reads as follows:

"It is ordered that a writ of injunction be issued upon the filing of the within bill of complaint, enjoining Judson A. Peck, supervisor of the second ward of the city of Niles from spreading upon the tax roll of said ward, which is now in his hands, any special assessment tax whatsoever until the further order of the court; also that said writ shall further enjoin Edward Hahn, treasurer of the city of Niles, until the further order of the court, from paying any city warrant drawn upon the treasury of said city or upon the treasurer thereof after the fund upon which such warrant purports to be drawn has been exhausted, and said writ shall further enjoin said Hahn from making any collection of any special tax as to paving or otherwise. Provided that a motion may be heard to dissolve this injunction before Judge Buck, of the Kalamazoo circuit, or Judge Yapple, of the St. Joseph circuit, at the option of the city attorney or the attorneys of defendants, on four days' notice. This injunction shall be in force until the further order of the court or until dissolved by the order of the proper judge and motion may be heard to dissolve at chambers."

A JERSEY COW.

She is the Cause of a Case in the Circuit Court.

The justice's return in the case of Charles P. Hoag against Rachael King, has been filed in the circuit court. The case was appealed from Justice Kimball's court where, on October 20, a judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff granting him possession of a Jersey cow, and allowed him $1 damages.

VISITS HIS OFFICE.

Probate Judge Van Riper Is Rapidly Improving.

This morning Probate Judge Van Riper appeared at his office for the first time in many weeks. He remained an hour or so and then, greatly exhausted, returned home. He will endeavor by a few hours' work each day to accustom himself to the work which illness compelled him to neglect. His features distinctly show that he has experienced much suffering and is very weak, although not much emaciated.

IMPORTANT OPINIONS.

Rendered by Judge Coolidge in Interesting Cases.

An opinion was handed down by Judge Coolidge yesterday in the case of the National Wall paper company against John Shutterly, James H. Fitzgerald, the Northwestern Mutual life insurance company, of Milwaukee, and the Phoenix Mutual life insurance company of Hartford. It is decreed that the complaint be dismissed and the cause discontinued as to the Phoenix company and the costs taxed against the complainant with a solicitor's fee of $10. It is further ordered that the real estate of the Phoenix company be released from the pretended mechanics lien which the complainant sought to foreclose.

The same opinion appearing above was ordered in four other cases against the defendants, the complainants in these cases being the American Boiler company, The Keweenaw Boiler company and James B. Clow & Sons, Dean, Huot, Brooks & Co.

The real estate upon which the mechanic's lien was held is located in Niles and comprised a hotel and the land it occupies.

A special sale of silverware at C. R. Hoile & Son's next Saturday, October 23. Don't miss it, it will do you good.

Our fine stock of goods below cost. We move to Kalamazoo November 1. Rather sell than pack the goods. Come to see as we have commenced to ship. SHERMAN & BOSS.

In the chancery proceeding brought by the Benton Harbor Building & Loan association against John M. Allmendinger the court has decreed that on or before January 4, 1898, the real estate described as the northerly half of lots 8 and 9 in block 9 in Benton Harbor, known as the Hotel Allmendinger shall be sold to satisfy a mortgage of $5,484.57 held by the complainant to whom it was executed by Mr. Allmendinger, October 10, 1892. If the proceeds of the sale of the property are not sufficient to pay the mortgage it is ordered that Mr. Allmendinger become personally liable for the payment of the deficiency.

BUCHANAN BABY SHOW.

Daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peck Adjudged the Prettiest.

BUCHANAN, Oct. 28.—The "Baby Carnival" was a success in every particular. There were 28 babies entered. Allene, the 13 months old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Peck receiving the prize for the prettiest baby one year old or over.

Richard Earl Eaton, 10 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eaton, receiving the prize for the prettiest baby under one year. The prizes were each a silver cup.

Prizes were also awarded to the best and the crosscut and to the oldest and youngest. A handsome lot of babies would be hard to find and a very difficult matter it was to decide between them.

The only regret is that the room was not larger to better accommodate the exhibits and the immense crowd as there was many who were turned away unable to enter. Refreshments were served for the mothers of the babies.

All seemed to enjoy the occasion and the ladies realized a handsome sum for their trouble.

ST. JOSEPH.

A. J. Wallace, of Traverse City, is the guest of his family here.

C. N. Menold will close his drug store Friday night and move the stock to Bangor where he will reopen business.

Charles and Joseph Burkhard were hunting yesterday and bagged 15 quail and one partridge. Frequent shooting has intimidated the birds and they are easily flushed.

Dr. Scott took out a deer license at the county clerk's office this morning. He is preparing to spend a few days in Northern Michigan in company with Will Lucker, Nate Gifford and John Wallace.

Guy Strickland was arrested last night by Officer Russell on complaint of drunkenness. He was arraigned before Justice St. Clair, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $2 and costs.

Marriage Licenses.

Harrison Robbins, 48, South Bend; Nellie Knight, 24, same. Albert Long, 20, Stevensville; Emma Liskey, 19, Chicago.

Probate Court.

Will of Albert Long admitted to probate.

Will of Samuel Washburn admitted to probate and Francis Washburn appointed administratrix with will annexed.

Will of Laura Harper admitted to probate and William W. Harper appointed administrator with the will annexed.

Petition filed for the appointment of John Wenman as guardian of John Gill, incompetent.

Petition filed for the appointment of Lucius Hogue as administrator of the estate of Asa U. Sherwood, deceased. Hearing November 22.

Art Exhibit and Reception

The ladies of the Universalist church have secured for exhibition and sale at Conkey's hall Friday night, October 29, the famous collection of pictures by eminent artists and illustrations upon the pictorial staff of the Ladies Home Journal. There are fifty pictures, the value of the originals in some instances being as high as $5,000. No price has been set upon the pictures. At 9 o'clock first choice is to be sold at auction, and so on until all the pictures are taken, giving all an opportunity to bid and buy.

The artists include Charles Dana Gibson, Edwin A. Abby, A. B. Frost, Howard Pyle, W. L. Taylor, Albert Lynch, Kate Greenaway, Alice Barbour Stevens and others.

The pictures will be on exhibition in Conkey's hall, Friday evening, October 29. Admission 10 cents. Door open at 7 o'clock. Frazell's orchestra has been engaged to play all the evening. After the sale of the pictures there will be dancing.

The Sad Part.

A lady who has been away from the city for a long while, and who during her absence received the sad news of the death of her husband of one of her intimate friends, upon her return hastened to call upon the bereaved widow to extend her sympathy and condolence.

"My dear —, I am so sorry to hear of your husband's death," said the lady with a suspicious break in her voice, "and you know, dear, how much I sympathize with you."

"Yes, I know you do. It is awful to have your husband taken away, and he did not leave me a cent of insurance either," said the widow, bursting into tears. —Toledo Blade.

A Dame School in England, 1837.

On a perch, forming a triangle with the corner of the room, sat a cock and two hens. Under a stump bed immediately beneath was a dog kennel in the occupation of three black terriers, whose barking, added to the noise of the children and the cackling of the fowls on the approach of a stranger, was almost deafening. There was only one small window, at which sat the teacher, observing three-fourths of the light it was capable of admitting. —Parliamentary Paper.

Check costumes given during the last fashionable wardrobe are having a decided vogue now and will be worn all winter. They are made in all grades of elaboration, from the simple, utilitarian gown to the visiting toilet intended for formal occasions. Tailor made costumes of gray, beige, mastic and similar subdued tints are to be a feature in the more practical winter styles. They are very slightly trimmed, depending for elegance mainly upon their perfect fit. These gowns are not confined to neutral tints, however, but are seen in green, mauve, red, violet and blue cloth.

In more elaborate cloth gowns silk is often introduced in the form of vests,

revers, panels and plaited quilles. The silk is usually of a contrasting color, or at least of a different shade.

Greens and blues still keep the lead as fashionable colors. Perhaps purple, in its various shades, should be mentioned in the same category. Other colors also are worn, but not so universally. Red seems to be coming forward in favor.

The illustration shows a formal costume of green taffeta. The skirt, which has a slight train, is trimmed in front with two quilles of cream gimpure embroidered with gold, which forms the tablier. The close bodice has a plastron, back and front, of gold embroidered gimpure over mauve silk. The plastron, which is full in front, is framed by bretelles composed of a double, plaited frill of green taffeta. The close sleeves of green taffeta open over crosswise platings of the same material and have a small puff at the shoulder. The collar is of mauve taffeta. The toque is of mauve flowers and gold embroidered lace.
